If the employee is promoted off an open competitive list, he or she will undergo a probationary term of fifty-two (52) weeks unless the President of PEF, or his/her designee, and the County agree in writing to reduce the probationary period to anything between eight (8) and fifty-two (52) weeks.

APPENDIX I

ALLEGANY COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES OVERTIME POLICY AND PROCEDURES

The purpose of this document is to increase clarification and consistency throughout the Department regarding use of overtime in a variety of situations. There are two general types of overtime – planned and unplanned overtime. The approval process for these two types varies slightly.

Planned overtime refers to situations and events for which a worker can reasonably identify the need for overtime during the Department's normal business hours. If, during normal business hours, a worker becomes aware of a situation or event that may give rise to overtime on that or a subsequent business day, it shall be considered planned overtime. The worker is required to notify her/his supervisor (or an alternate supervisor if her/his immediate supervisor is not available) of the situation or event giving rise to the request, and to seek the approval of the supervisor for such overtime.

This approval is requested via the Overtime Approval/Denial Record on the second page of this procedure. The supervisor will indicate either approval or denial of the requested overtime on the form, returning the form to the employee for attachment to the employee's Time and Leave Record. For all approved overtime, the supervisor will also initial the actual Time and Leave Record upon completion and submittal by the employee.

When an employee requests and is approved for a specific number of hours for planned overtime, the employee is not to exceed that number of hours without additional supervisory approval.

Unplanned overtime refers to situations and events that cannot reasonably be identified by a worker during normal business hours. These situations and events are generally of an emergency nature and involve after-hours notification of a problem. Staff responding to such situations must inform the appropriate supervisor of the nature of the emergency and the hours worked on the next business day, receiving supervisory approval at that time. The employee will present her/his Time and Leave Record to the supervisor at the time of request for after-the-fact approval; supervisory initials on this form will document approval.

From time to time staff throughout the Department may receive telephone calls at their homes from people who receive some type of assistance from the Department. It is important for staff to be able to enjoy their home life free from such distractions, and such calls are therefore to be discouraged.

Whenever possible, after-hours callers should be directed to call the appropriate worker at the office on the next business day, and such calls should therefore be quite brief and not particularly disruptive.

Calls made from an individual directly to a staff members' home are also to be discouraged, and staff are strongly discouraged from providing families with their home phone numbers. Despite a worker's best practices in this area, some families may call the worker at home in a state of actual or perceived crisis. Similarly, workers may receive after-hours calls from individuals or agencies that have appropriately gone through our answering service.

Employees who receive such phone calls at home are eligible for overtime pay to compensate them for the intrusion into their personal lives. Compensation will be calculated as follows:

The Employee will be compensated for phone calls accepted after hours as follows:

Each incoming phone call = one hour straight pay

Outgoing phone calls = no additional pay

The actual cost of outgoing long distance calls is eligible for reimbursement. Requests for same must be submitted on the employee's expense sheet along with a copy of the phone bill.

Employees claiming compensation for after-hours phone calls must so indicate on their time sheets, which must include case identifiers (e.g. case name, answering service, hotline call, etc.).

Should an employee need to leave her/his home to respond to a crisis situation, s/he will be eligible for compensation as per the Agreement between Allegany County and ~~AFSCME~~ PEF.
